Dr. Olshinsky reported the state is moving toward a performance-based funding formula that would give dollars to institutions for retaining and graduating students. The proposal is about reducing community college budgets by 5% to 20% and redistributing the money based on performance.

President Olshinsky emailed Board members a copy of a letter he sent to legislators with his recommendation that the state not eliminate current formula-based funding; however, if they do move to a performance-based funding formula, the state should determine how to fund institutions either with new funding or to not introduce the performance-based funding formula at all.
C. Introduction of a Rule

Information received from Chancellor Skidmore relative to Institutional Rulemaking was presented to the Board. At its meeting on January 31, 2013, the WV Council for Community and Technical College Education will vote to revise Series 4, Rules and Administrative Procedures. The revision will give sole authority regarding rulemaking to institutional governing boards. It is anticipated other technical changes may also be made to the rule.

Two rules for consideration by the Board are as follows:

-- Travel

Mr. Lippiello informed the Board there are some changes from the state level that needed to be updated in the Travel Rule; however, no dramatic changes were made to the rule.

-- Computer and Internet Usage

C. Vice President, Student Services.......................................................Janet Fike

• Spring Enrollment

Ms. Fike reported on the WVNCC 2013 spring enrollment comparison (headcount/FTE).

D. Vice President, Academic Affairs................................................. Dr. Vicki Riley

• Report from Textbook Affordability Committee

Dr. Riley shared an example, provided by Liberal Arts Division Chair Kathy Herrington, on a new way to assist students with reduced costs for textbooks. The division worked on an ala carte version of a textbook for seven different courses. (The ala carte textbook is a loose-leaf style binder-type textbook with reduced pages.) Initiated in the fall, the ala carte menu offers students textbooks at costs less than 25% of hardcover books and affords students the opportunity to sell books back to the College’s bookstore.

To save on costs, textbook rental continues to increase among the student population, with used textbooks accounting for the largest sales. Another saving option is on-line book sales that offer students a five percent discount on the purchase price of a book. Additional improvements and processes have been implemented to assist students when ordering textbooks.
The Textbook Affordability Committee will meet with Barnes & Noble after their opening in the new building to determine how the College and the bookstore can partner to better serve students.
